What is a Scroll?

A scroll is a piece of old paper or parchment upon which a high level wizard or cleric has written a mental formula.

How do you use a Scroll?

To use a scroll, there must be enough light to read by, and the scroll must be read aloud.

Restrictions

Scrolls can only be used by the class that created them.

A scroll can have no more than 3 spells written upon it.

Single Use: Once a spell is read from aloud from a scroll, it is erased from the scroll.

Wizards can choose to scribe a scroll to their spell book. See Wizard Class for details.
