Core Mechanics in Cresthaven RPG

1. Dice Rolls: In Cresthaven RPG, you'll use different types of dice, like the famous 20-sided die (d20), to figure out the results of your actions. Rolling the dice helps decide if you succeed or fail at tasks like finding hidden treasures or fighting monsters.
2. Attributes and Abilities: Your character has attributes like Strength, Dexterity, and Intelligence that show what they're good at. Abilities and skills can make these attributes even better, helping your character do amazing things.
3. Character Sheets: This is where you keep track of everything about your character—what they can do, what gear they have, and their stats.
4. Turn-Based Gameplay: The game is played in turns, where each player gets a chance to act. Who goes first is determined by something called initiative, especially in battles.
5. Combat Rules: When you're in a fight, there are rules for how to attack, defend, use special powers, and calculate damage. Combat is a big part of your adventures.
6. Hit Points (HP): These show how healthy your character is. If you lose all your HP, your character might fall unconscious or face serious trouble.
7. Saving Throws: These are rolls you make to avoid bad effects, like traps or spells that try to hurt you.
8. Experience Points (XP) and Leveling: By completing quests and battling enemies, your character earns XP. Getting enough XP helps your character level up, gaining new abilities and becoming even stronger.
9. Role-Playing and Storytelling: Cresthaven RPG is all about telling stories and playing your character. You describe what your character does, what they're thinking, and how they interact with the world around them.
10. Game Master (GM) or Dungeon Master (DM): The DM is like the storyteller and referee. They describe the world, control non-player characters (NPCs), and guide the story.

How to Play Cresthaven RPG: Actions and Dice Rolls

When it's your turn, you might want to find hidden items or fight a monster. Rolling the dice will show how well you do. A high roll could mean you find a treasure, while a low roll might lead to a less successful outcome. Your DM is there to help with the results and guide you along the way.

Getting Clues and Making Choices

During your adventure, you'll come across clues and interesting characters. These hints will help you decide what to do next. The direction of the story is up to you and your choices!

Playing as a Character

Creating your own character is one of the best parts! You get to pick their ancestry, class, and equipment. If all these choices seem overwhelming, don't worry—pre-generated characters are available to help you get started quickly.
